2. If the above personnel were allotted to FDD for this purpose, it is estimated that they would produce about 1,300 pages a month. We feel that this information could then be transmitted directly in draft form, unclassified, with only a serial number for identification. In the case of a sensitive source, notation of source would be deleted prior to transmittal of report.

3. If publication procurement funds were allotted as indicated in l.e. above, all such publications could be made available to OPC for their retention upon completion of exploitation by FDD.

4. If it is deemed necessary to reduce the project in any way FDD will stand ready to implement any proportionate part.
